College Students Killed by Car

MCCLURE, Ill. — Two college students were killed today at 2:10 a.m., while hitchhiking on highway 3, near here. They were struck by a car driven by Richard E. Lyster, 23, Jonesboro.

Killed were Howard L. Pritchett, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pritchett, LaFeria, Tex., a student at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau; and Jerry L. Munson, 19, East Prairie, a student at Murray State University in Kentucky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munson, East Prairie, Mo. Pritchett had lived in East Prairie before his parents moved to Texas.

The bodies were taken to the Shelby Funeral Home in East Prairie.

Students Stone U.S. Embassy in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian students stoned the U.S. Embassy here today in protest of the visit of Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco.

The attack on the embassy came hours before Sisco arrived in this capital from his talks with Israeli officials in Tel Aviv. He was heavily guarded when he came off his plane and was flown by helicopter from the airport to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Dwight Porter.

Security forces with rifles and submachine guns were posted on the roof of the air terminal.

The students broke several windows but did not inflict major damage. They fired volleys of rocks from the tennis court of the American University of Beirut, which adjoins the parking lot at the rear of the embassy.

The demonstrators dispersed after half an hour. The windows at the back of the embassy were shattered soon after the attack started and most of the rocks glanced off the walls.

The embassy is guarded by Lebanese security forces, which have been strengthened since Jordanian mobs attacked the American Embassy in Amman and burned the U.S. cultural center, also protesting Sisco's mission.

Leftist and Arab guerrilla organizations have called for peaceful demonstrations against Sisco's visit, despite a government ban on any protests.

Sisco had been scheduled to travel to Amman Friday for talks with King Hussein. But two days of guerrilla-led anti-American demonstrations there and the promise of more-persuaded him to defer that visit.

Polling Places Announced for School Vote

Charles D. Matthews, secretary of the Sikeston R-6 board of education today, announced polling places for the April 28 tax levy referendum.

Registered voters of the district will be asked to approve a 39-cent increase, raising the rate from $4.19 to $4.58 per $100 assessed valuation.

Voters living in Sikeston will vote according to precincts as in regular city elections. Polling places are different than regular city elections, except in ward three, precinct one. Persons who normally vote at Sikeston Motor Company will cast their ballots there because there is no school facility in the precinct.

A revision in state election laws brought about voting in school elections by precincts. This had not been required or were voters required to be registered.

Polling places by precincts are:

Ward one, precinct one, junior high school; ward one, precinct two, Airport School; ward two, precinct one, Lee Hunter School; ward two, precinct two, Lincoln School; ward three, precinct two, Southwest Elementary; ward four, precinct one, Matthews Elementary, and ward four, precinct two, Southeast Elementary.

Polling places outside Sikeston:

Spring's Store, Salcedo; town hall of Miner; town hall of Morehouse and the Kiwanis Club building in Morehouse.

Polling places will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Cambodia Claims Viet Civilians Killed by Crossfire in Battle

TAKEO, Cambodia (AP) — killed, and the official Cambodian officials insisted today the more than 100 Vietnamese killed in a detention camp were killed by crossfire in an engagement between Cambodian and enemy troops.

This was contradicted by Mekong River.

In Saigon, informed sources reported Cambodian soldiers moved in on the camp four times Thursday and Friday and opened fire without warning.

Yet another version came from a Cambodian army medic, who said the Vietnamese were killed when they tried to run away during a bombardment.

The official version came from Col. Kong Chhath, the regional government and military commander. He said the Vietnamese were killed in a crossfire when enemy troops infiltrated Takeo.

Survivors told reporters Friday and today that the massacre was deliberate.

"They told us to lie down, that we should sleep," said Le Van Pa, a Vietnamese in his 50s. "Then the soldiers began to shoot with both rifles and machine guns. It continued for so long."

The warehouse where the bodies were found was emptied today, but bloody evidence of the killings that took place there was ample. Its one solid wall was spattered with blood, and machine-gun bullets had gouged out large chunks of concrete.

Last week, about 100 Vietnamese civilians penned in a barbed wire enclosure were

20 Killed In Texas Twisters

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP) — Tornadoes, sweeping across Texas from New Mexico to Oklahoma killed 20 persons Friday night and today—12 of them in a trailer park filled mainly with retired persons.

The Department of Public Safety figures also showed 111 injured.

Authorities feared more bodies may be found when communications are restored. Damage ran into the millions.

The tornado laid waste a retirement village of trailer homes called Sherwood Shores on Greenbelt Lake five miles north of Clarendon in the Texas Panhandle.

The state patrol reported 12 persons killed there and 50 injured.

At least six other persons died in tornadoes which swept for 175 miles from near the New Mexico border west of Lubbock almost to the Oklahoma border east and north of Amarillo.

Patrolmen of the Texas Department of Public Safety radioed the first details of what happened near Clarendon, about 60 miles southeast of Amarillo. Telephone service in that area was badly crippled.

State troopers said 50 persons were injured at Sherwood Shores and up to 160 house trailers were destroyed or damaged heavily.

None of the Sherwood Shores dead was identified at once.

Authorities feared the death toll would rise as wrecked houses and buildings through the stricken belt could be searched.

Three Injured

Two highway accidents resulted in three injuries Friday.

Tracy Trevathan, 66, East Prairie, passenger in a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Van Trevathan, 78, East Prairie, received possible internal injuries at 4 p.m., one-half mile south of Charleston, on highway 105. She was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital.

The Trevathan car was traveling south on route 105 when a 1968 Ford, driven by Lilly Foster, 43, Bertrand, came off the ramp of Interstate 57, into the path of the East Prairie car, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 11:15 p.m. on highway 25, one mile east of Cardwell.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Lloyd Parker, Cardwell, went out of control on a bridge and sideswiped a 1967 Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by David Holcomb, 17, route one Cardwell.

The Parker car then went off the highway, through a field, and struck the home of Cannon Hosman.

Parker received cuts on his forehead and injury to his right leg and shoulder. A passenger, Terry Lytaker, 24, Cardwell, received cuts on his head and right leg.

Both were taken to Dunkin County Memorial hospital in Kennett.

Parker was given a summons by the patrol for driving while intoxicated.

Work to Resume

ADVANCE — Gary Davault, assistant plant manager of the Inland Shoe Co., plant, has announced that workers in the lasting packing and box making departments will return to work Monday at 7:30 a.m.

The factory has been shut down since April 7 due to a supply shortage caused by the Teamsters trucking strike.

Full Day's Events for Cotton Producers

The 21st annual meeting of the Missouri Cotton Producers Association convened at 2 p.m. at the Ramada Inn today to hear an address on "Cotton Policy," by Kenneth Frick, administrator of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture, in Washington, D.C.

Missouri's 10th district congressman, Bill D. Burlison, Cape Girardeau, spoke on farm legislation. Two resolutions on the cotton program were presented by Pat Burlison, vice-president of M.C.P.A. Attendance was expected to reach 350.

Burlison, who serves on the house committee on agriculture, and its subcommittee on cotton, discussed the present status of legislation before the subcommittee. He said recommendations will soon be made to the full committee.

The 10th Missouri District representative said that it appeared that the proposal, with backing from the administration, would call for elimination of the parity concept for agriculture. Included also likely be the "set-aside" plan of the administration. This requires farmers who participate in the program to remove from production land as directed by the secretary of agriculture. The farmer receives no compensation on the land for which he gives up cropping rights.

Burlison said that in his opinion the effect of the

Seeks Re-election As Circuit Clerk

Lynn F. Ingram, Circuit Clerk of Scott County, has announced his candidacy for re-election.

His experience to qualify him for this office begins with his appointment in October, 1963, to fill the unexpired term of Lloyd "Jerry" Briggs.

In 1967 he was elected to his first full term of office.

Lynn was born in Sikeston; completed his schooling there; and at present resides at 704 Hickory Drive with his family.

In 1950 he was married to Alberta Gardner and they are the parents of three children. Debby is a junior of SE Mo. State College, Cape Girardeau; Beverly is a senior in Sikeston High School; and Mark (Ja Bo) is in the 6th grade at Middle School in Sikeston.

Being a Veteran of World War II, having served in Europe, Lynn is an active member of the American Legion, Henry Melrum Post.

He is a member of Sikeston Lodge No. 310, AF & AM; Past Patron of the Order of the Eastern Star, Sikeston Chapter, No. 137; and a member of the Scottish Rite in St. Louis.

He is a past president of the Sikeston Matthews School P.T.A.; served on the Red Cross Board; a member of the Sikeston Elks Lodge No. 2319; a member of the Circuit Clerks and Records Association of Missouri in which he has served on the Legislative Committee and, at present, is serving as Vice-Chairman for the Association. Lynn is also a member of the State and National Democratic Committee.

He attends the First Church of the Nazarene in Sikeston.

Liberalized Alaskan Abortion Bill Vetoes

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. Keith Miller, saying his decision was one concerning "the right to life," vetoed legislation Friday that would have given Alaska an abortion law almost without restrictions.

State Sen. John Rader, the Anchorage Democrat, who sponsored the bill, said Miller's decision "shows a lack of sensitivity and understanding of the basic issues involved." Rader added that the legislature could be one vote away from overturning the veto.

Miller said he disagreed with those who said he should not allow his personal conviction to sway his decision. "Any man who does not follow his personal convictions in conducting state business is not worthy of the office of governor," he said.

Drinking Pal Robs Man

Carl Dowdy, 726 Smith, reported to police last night a man robbed him of $84 between Charleston and the Mississippi River bridge at Cairo.

Dowdy told officers he met the man, described as tall and slender, at a bar in Sikeston. After a few drinks they decided to go to Cairo.

Jaycee of Year to be Presented

Allen O'Donnell, an instructor at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, will speak tonight at the annual Jaycee installation banquet at 7:30 p.m. at the Country Club.

Presentation of the Jaycee of the Year award will highlight the program, which will be followed by a dance.

Officers for 1970 of the Jaycees and the Jaycee wives will be installed following presentation of awards.

Court Order Enjoins Rockfest

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — Sponsors of a rock music festival scheduled to be held May 7-10 south of Carbondale were enjoined by a court order Friday from issuing tickets or publicizing the event.

The order was issued by Judge Rodney Scott of Decatur at the request of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees and the Jackson County Board of Supervisors.

Judge Scott said his order would remain in effect while he hears arguments to bar the proposed rockfest.

Woman Dies in Traffic Crash

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Maude Proffer, 63, of Fredericktown, Mo., was killed Friday after her car collided head-on with a cement truck about three miles east of Farmington on M-00.

Roy Stegale, 50, of Bonne Terre, Mo., driver of the truck, was taken to a Bonne Terre hospital for treatment of head lacerations, the highway patrol said.

Fire Destroys Prep School

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—Sixty-three students were rescued unharmed but lost all their belongings late Friday night as fire destroyed the main building at Our Lady of the Ozarks prep school in Carthage.

The building was damaged Tuesday evening when fire started near the stage in the auditorium and collapsed part of the auditorium roof.

Priests on the staff smelled smoke in a recreation room about 11 p.m. Friday. They dashed into the dormitory section and got the students out of bed in time to escape injury. The only personal belongings not destroyed were some work clothing that had been left in the gymnasium.

Townpeople gave the homeless students shelter for the rest of the night.

Dedicated in 1926 as the Ozark Wesleyan College, the building was bought by a Catholic organization, the Oblate Fathers, in 1944 and has been used as a prep school.

The stone building was 280 feet long, 60 feet wide—except the auditorium section which was 120 feet wide — and three stories high.

Firemen from Joplin helped save a nearby chapel. Cause of the fire was not known.

Signs Indicate Nixon to Announce New Troop Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the signs pointing to another troop withdrawal announcement, at about 50,000 men. If so, this President Nixon makes his fourth broadcast to the nation Monday night on his effort to scale down U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

The President's address, delayed four days after troubles developed on the Apollo 13 space flight, will originate from the White House at San Clemente, Calif.

No time has been set for the so-called "update report" although the broadcast originally set Thursday had been scheduled for 8 p.m.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird a day earlier provided a possible tipoff to what the President will say, asserting in a Vietnam report, secret speech at Ft. Riley, Kan., that testimony on U.S. involvement Nixon "shortly will announce a in the war in Laos will be made further reduction in U.S. public Monday."

WHEN PATRIOTS WERE HEROES

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere,
On the eighteenth of April, in Seventy-five...

Thus opens the famous poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow telling of the historic ride of Paul Revere and William Dawes to warn the patriots that "the British are coming!" To this day, every year on the early morning of April 19th, thousands line the route to thrill to the clatter of galloping hoofs over cobblestoned streets as "Paul Revere" rides a spirited stallion from the river's edge in Charlestown to the village green in Lexington and then on to the wooded bridge in Concord.

...in the belfry arch

Of the North Church tower as a signal light—
One, if by land, and two, if by sea;
And I on the opposite shore will be Ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm...

The Patriots had learned the secret plan of General Thomas Gage, in charge of the British troops occupying Boston, to march in darkness to destroy the ammunition stored by the Minutemen in Concord. It was the young surgeon, Dr. Joseph Warren (Harvard, class of 1759) who arranged for the signal lights in the Old North Church. Three months later Warren was killed in the battle of Bunker Hill.

When General Gage arrived in Lexington at dawn on April 19, the forewarned Minutemen under the command of Captain John Parker were waiting — 50 brave men, outnumbered ten to one. Eight of them fell, never to rise again, as the first volleys marking the beginning of the Revolutionary War followed the "shot heard round the world."

The British continued to Concord, burned the courthouse to the ground, and began their march back to Boston. By now the Minutemen, swarming like angry bees from miles around, subjected the Redcoats to constant, withering fire from every rock, tree, and gully. The British suffered more than 300 casualties, killed and wounded.

It is not altogether strange that there were those who have lost faith in America today; there were those who stood with the Redcoat imperialists then and there are those who stand with the Red imperialists today; there were the enemies of America who bombed and burned the courthouses of the people, then as today; there were those who chose to flee to Canada rather than to stand and fight for freedom, then as today.

What is strange is that those who refuse to fight for freedom, who attack America, who bomb courthouses and refuse to stand against Red imperialism are today called "revolutionaries," or "radicals," or "doves;" 200 years ago they were called Tories or worse. On the other hand, those people of today who, 200 years ago, were called liberals, or revolutionaries, or Minutemen, are today called conservatives, or squares, or hawks or reactionaries.

Seems to us that somebody along the way has switched the meaning of words.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

The week of April 19-25 this year is set aside as National Library Week. During this time the peculiarly human characteristic that accounts for all of man's accomplishment is to be commemorated—the ability to store the sum total of his knowledge and build new knowledge upon it.

Our libraries preserve the written word that records faithfully all that the wisest and most gifted among us have learned of the arts, of literature, of science and technology, of life, the world and the universe around us. In great libraries the record of civilization is being kept in movies, in the sound of stereo tapes, on microfilm. The purpose of National Library Week is to create broader awareness of the need for a better-read, better-informed America and to encourage the habit of reading and library use.

Libraries have been the cornerstone of civilization throughout recorded history. They were never more so than now. Knowledge, especially in scientific fields, expands at a fantastic rate and an education can truly never be completed but must be constantly sought throughout a lifetime of learning. Libraries remain a primary tool of learning. During National Library Week, let us strengthen the habit of using them often and well.

Almost every poor man has some joke to tell about some rich man.

If your real feelings are sifted down, don't you think people who disagree with you are wrong?

Never wonder how other people can afford things you can't. That's a big step toward being envious and sour.

1970 started at admiralty's date line which zigzags east and west of the 180th meridian so that it is always in the Pacific Ocean, and it moves westward at the speed of 1,000 miles an hour. 1970 had no monopoly on this activity; it does the same thing each Jan. 1.

END OF THE AFFAIR

A nation-wide environmental teach-in — Earth Day — is planned for Wednesday (April 22).

America's long-time love affair with the automobile is pffft. Some psychologists used to say those red convertibles in the dealers' show windows were sex symbols to many Americans. But now the automobile is looked upon as a chief cause of air pollution and ground congestion. It is held accountable for 60 percent of the nation's air pollution ills.

Researchers say the automobile's gasoline-fired internal combustion engine spews out four of the five basic types of pollutants. Recent studies indicate constant exposure to low levels of carbon monoxide can increase mortality rates among heart attack victims. And exposure to fumes can also impair the ability to make quick decisions — just the kind necessary to avoid accidents.

An attack on the polluting effects of the automobile will be a vital part of the environmental teach-in on April 22. Mock funeral ceremonies in which auto engines will be buried are to be held in some parts of the country. Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York has banned all traffic from Fourteenth street for 12 hours, and from Fifth Avenue for two hours.

Disaffection with the automobile is not limited to the United States. Recently, people protesting air pollution in Vancouver, British Columbia, staged a sit-in at metered parking spaces. The group claimed they had rented the spaces in lieu of automobiles, which they described as a health hazard and a waste of resources.

All across the nation, rising controversy is threatening construction of expressways running through the heart of the cities. Local opposition, based in part on the dangers of increased noise and pollution, is holding up 128.4 miles of proposed highways, according to the Federal Highway Administration.

And here is the costly plaque of junked cars. New York City's Citizens Budget Commission terms abandoned autos a "new growth industry." Last year, more than 55,000 cars had to be hauled off that city's streets. Chicago dealt with 37,000 abandoned cars in 1969. Houston deals with 600 to 700 a month.

Under pressure to reduce the pollution caused by auto exhaust, the nation's car manufacturers have sent an urgent message to the oil companies: "Get the lead out." This refers to tetraethyl lead, an additive used in making most of the gasoline sold in the country. Lead enables gasoline to meet the efficiency requirements of modern engines. But it is both a health hazard and impedes the workability of devices being developed to meet a Federal deadline for controlling 90 per cent of auto pollution by 1972.

The oil industry is moving toward a gradual transition to lead-free fuels. The side-effects, however, are likely to create a multi-billion dollar headache. Oilmen claim most of the 105 million vehicles now on the road in the United States won't run on the fuels that would remain if lead were abruptly removed from gasoline. And to reach the same efficiency without lead would require additives costing an extra two to four cents a gallon.

Faced with these difficulties, auto makers are hedging their bet on the internal combustion engine by developing experimental cars with alternate power sources, such as electricity, steam and gas turbines. There could be a Stanley Steamer in your future.

Gravel roads in Missouri's state highway system almost will be a thing of the past when the Highway Commission's oiling program is completed this summer. All but 20 miles of road will be oiled, of which 10 miles are in Stockton Reservoir. The remaining 10 miles are under construction contract.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The world's greatest balancing act — Barnum and Bailey not withstanding — is being attempted in Washington by President Nixon. He is trying daintily (1) to balance the huge federal budget and (2) to grant promised pay raises to postal and other government employees without (3) increasing taxes.

At a secret breakfast session with GOP congressional leaders, the President asked plaintively how they might accomplish all this. "How," he pleaded, "are we going to meet the argument of no more tax legislation this year?"

Answering his own question, he proposed what he delicately called "acceleration" of estate and gift taxes. This "acceleration," he promised, would be a "one-shot deal." It should provide enough revenue to keep his 1971 budget balanced, he said hopefully, then the pay raises could be financed out of higher postal rates.

TAX TALK "You've got to raise more revenue," emphatically agreed Wisconsin's Congressman John Byrnes, the top Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. But he feared that any tax "acceleration" would open up a Pandora's Box.

"The postal reform package didn't include estate and gift tax reforms," he pointed out. "As soon as we touch it, we open it up to such proposals as capital gains taxes, capital levies and other tax reforms — all inflammatory."

"Can't you separate out these acceleration proposals?" asked the President.

"It wouldn't be easy," said Byrnes. He reminded the President that "this is an election year, so we can expect all sorts of irresponsibility."

Nixon then raised the possibility of adding "other excise taxes." Turning to Delaware's Senator John

Williams, the ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee, the President asked: "John, could you handle it in the Senate without making it a Christmas tree?"

"No," Williams replied flatly, although he personally "could support the acceleration without features."

TEN-CENT STAMPS "It's totally irresponsible not to raise the revenue to pay for this," Nixon declared. "The Republican position should be 'pay as you go.' Then he turned to Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott and House GOP leader Gerald Ford.

"Jerry, Hugh, can you wheel it?" asked the President.

Footnote: The President acknowledged at the secret strategy session that it would be difficult, in an election year, to get Congress to increase first-class postage to 10 cents. But he pleaded that "the 10-cent stamp would cost the average householder only $4 a year."

He also made clear that it was his own idea to increase mail rates.

"The new 10-cent stamp is our suggestion," he said, "not a part of the agreement with the unions."

Postmaster General Winton Blount also disputed the contention that the first-class mail users help pay for the junk mail that corporations unload into the mails.

"Criticism about junk mail is largely myth," he said. "It pays a higher percentage of its loss than first-class mail."

DELAING JUSTICE The Supreme Court, in its last great consumer decision, ruled on June 16, 1969, that El Paso Natural Gas should get rid of Pacific Northwest Pipelng "without delay" to restore competition in the gigantic California natural gas market.

It has now been 10 months since the Supreme Court's decision. Yet the Justice Department has done its best to hold up enforcement of the edict.

Attorney General John Mitchell has asked for an amendment to the decree, further delaying the case. In February, a letter from the Justice Department to the District Court judge, who is supposed to enforce the order, mildly urges the judge to take his sweet time. And at a hearing, Justice made proposals for an El Paso "study" that would mean months more of waiting by the consumers.

It is worth mentioning that El Paso — which benefits $1 million a month from the delay — has paid President Nixon's and Attorney General Mitchell's former law firm at least $771,129.83 in fees.

Meanwhile, as if working with the Justice Department to stall the case, the new Supreme Court under Chief Justice Warren Burger is sitting on 17 petitions. Only the millions of consumers, fearful of another El Paso rate raise, seem to be in a hurry to see the law carried out.

Footnote: El Paso has been under four Supreme Court orders to divest since 1962. In both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, the Justice Department backed away from pushing the case, Clark Clifford, an intimate of both Presidents, once was retained by El Paso as counsel.

But the Democrats weren't as blatant about helping El Paso as the Republicans have been. Four days after Mitchell took command of the Justice Department, he permitted dropping of the anti-trust case against El Paso, although Solicitor General Erwin Griswold took the official blame. The dismissal was so unusual that the Warren Court took the case away from Justice, saying Mitchell had no right "to alter or modify" a mandate.

Inside Labor

By Victor Ries!

The rich poor: cost-of-living 'index' includes furs, dancing, outboard motors — yet rank and file complains.

Washington, D.C.: — Some would call it meretricious. And an old in-crowd would call it loaded with razzmatazz. Some call it the cost-of-living index — the hottest thing in town these days. From now on you'll hear it again and again, provoking strikes, riling the rank and file into violence, creating a gap between them and their union leaders and their employers.

This index is down to an acronym now — the COL. Its name will flare wide and costly workouts and wildcats for the rest of this turbulent year.

And come Sept. 14 the COL formula in an expiring union contract will cost the automobile industry scores of millions of dollars to help auto workers "catch up" with the previous three years' "COL."

The industry will have to boost each of some 700,000 members of Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers 26 cents an hour. That's a bit more than $10 a week. Now just multiply.

There is such things as the cost-of-living index. It's the uninvestigated Consumer Price Index which this column has been attempting to call to the attention of responsible citizens in government, industry and labor. This is called the CPI, and is supposed to measure what the urban public must pay for its "basket."

The Labor Dept., using old standards, measures the prices, compares them with a base-year period and reports that it has gone up 6 per cent in a year, or 1/4 of 1 per cent in a month. And there are union contracts which call for its increase everytime the CPI goes up some percentages.

But the point is that the measurement is misunderstood, misinterpreted and misused by rank and files pressing their leaders for heavy economic thing in the hall will be the wage gains which positively will attack on the cost of living. It price labor and this nation right will dominate the speeches — for out of the world market. Then this is the union which first won there will be hundreds of a cost-of-living escalator clause thousands fewer jobs.

The whole CPI thing must be absolute. First, it is believed by the public to be the measure of a cost of living. It isn't. The sky Dept.'s March 20 report on rocketing CPI, as though it is the measure of subsistence.

Let it be known that this is razzmatazz seasoning. Certainly food and some clothing have gone up over the past two decades. But let it be known that the "index," the price as is measured by the Labor Dept., also includes the most luxurious living standards any working class has known in the history of civilization.

There should be an investigation. Let the people know what they're getting for their money in the old devil "index." Perhaps that will soothe the intellectuals who call the wildcats. Something must.

Ann Landers Telephone Company in 1911 Was Already Civilized and Concerned

Dear Ann Landers: A close relative who is married and has one small child is grossly overweight. She is under 30, looks 45, and a pretty face, and wears lovely clothes. In spite of her wardrobe, the girl is repulsive with all that fat. Every time she comes to visit she looks heavier than before. I cringe at the sight of her.

Don't tell me it's none of my business. This girl's gluttony has made her look like a baby elephant. She is a source of embarrassment to the entire family — everyone except her husband, that is. He doesn't seem to notice. Whoever said, "Love is blind" knew what he was talking about.

How can those of us who love this fat slob motivate her to lose 50 or more ugly pounds? — No Fat Here

Dear No: You sound as if you have quite a lot of fat yourself — between the ears. A young woman who is 50 pounds overweight is a compulsive eater with deep psychological problems. The best thing you can do is keep quiet.

Your notion that the girl's obesity is hurting the family is interesting, indeed. Interesting, too, that you did not identify the relationship. I'll bet a dollar to a drachma she's your daughter and at the bottom of her eating problem is a mother who has been nagging the very life out of her.

Dear Ann Landers: No doubt you've had plenty of beefs from housewives who didn't like your advice on delivery men who track mud in the house. You said they shouldn't be asked to remove their shoes — even after the lady made it plain it does no good to ask them to use the doormat because they still ruin the rugs. She went on to say, "Delivery men are getting ruder and less considerate all the time — which is not surprising, since the quality of people as well as goods and services are deteriorating."

I happened to run across a company directive dated October 28, 1911. It was from the Chicago Bell Telephone Plant Superintendent to the Service Employees. I quote from it herewith:

"When you enter a residence don't overlook the foot-mat. If requested to go around to the back door don't consider yourself insulted. Try to realize that the lady of the house may not have a maid and she is trying to save work for herself. And if the lady tells you her phone is no good, don't agree with her. Say, 'Your phone is as good as anybody's.' Then go ahead and make sure it is."

It's true, Ann, the more things change the more they are the same. — Lake Forest

Dear Lake: Thanks for the reminder, and now — if someone at the telephone company can do something about an error in a computerized bill, I'd appreciate it very much.

John B. Daley

Daley To Speak At Trinity

Trinity Baptist Church, located on Highway 61 North in Sikeston, announced this week a special eight day evangelistic effort beginning Sunday and continuing through next Sunday.

John B. Daley, pastor of the Brook Hollow Baptist Church of Nashville, Tennessee, will be the guest preacher during this time. Daley is a native of Kentucky, a graduate of the University of Kentucky and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville. HE has served churches in Kentucky, Ohio, Mississippi and Tennessee. Don Owen, Minister of Music at Trinity, will be leading the music for the week and rendering special music during each of the services.

Services are scheduled for 10:40 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

Trinity's pastor, George W. Cummins Jr., stated "The members of Trinity want the people of Sikeston to know of their desire to share the Christian faith. These services are designed to give those interested such an opportunity. There will be faithful preaching, good music and great fellowship. We welcome visitors as honored guests and trust that individuals in our city will accept this as a personal invitation."

Rev. James Hackney
Hackney Evangelist
For Own Church

Rev. James W. Hackney, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sikeston, will be serving as evangelist for the church's "Strength for Living" crusade April 19-26.

Rev. Hackney has served as pastor of First Baptist Church since 1964, where he has been active in civic and denominational affairs. He is a member of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, chairman of the Nominating Committee of the Missouri Baptist Convention, where he also serves as First Vice-President.

Music for the revival will be led by Joe Williams, Minister of Music and Education, with nightly emphasis on the Sunday School, deacons, church music, the family, children, and youth. Services are at 7:15 nightly. The public is invited to attend.

Safflower plants produce a dyestuff that has been used since early Egyptian days.

SATUR

Allen "Wants to Win"

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Richie Allen says he doesn't care if he ever hits another home run - provided the St. Louis Cardinals keep winning.

"I mean that with all my heart," the controversial Allen said Friday night after the Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 and jumped into first place in the Eastern Division of the National League.

The slugging Allen, playing third base since the start of the season in place of ailing Mike Shannon, slammed his fourth home run of the season, a blast off loser Steve Blass, 1-1 to start the third inning.

Reminded that he has hit four homers in eight games, Allen replied, "I would be satisfied never to hit another one if we win."

"That's called altruism," a reporter told him.

"Spell that for me and write it down one of these days," said Allen smiling.

Told that if he would hit 81 homers if he continues his present pace over the season he said:

"Who could pay that kind of money next year?"

"I just want to win," he repeated. "That's about the only thing I haven't been accused of doing - playing with a winner."

"This team thinks it can win with Richie at third," said Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst. "He came to me in spring training and said 'Hell, I'll play anywhere.' What more can I ask?"

Allen, a native of Wampum, Pa., about 50 miles from Pittsburgh, says he hasn't had particularly good hitting success at ancient Forbes Field.

"It's old and shabby and looks like your hitting in candlelight - I can say that now that I'm not in Philadelphia."

The Cardinals, behind George Culver's seven-hit pitching, scored all their runs in the first and third innings, then held off several Pirate threats.

Joe Torre drove in two runs in the first inning on a single and Allen, Joe Hague and Jul-a in Javier drove in the other runs in the third inning. The Pirates scored twice in the third on a run-scoring single by Bob Robertson playing for Roberto Clemente who has an injured finger - and another one on an error.

Miller Stops Mustangs; Dogs Even Season Recored

Don Miller pitched a three-hit shutout as the Sikeston Bulldogs to victory over the North Pemiscot Mustangs, 5-0 at VFW stadium yesterday. Miller pitched a better control game, walking only one man. His last outing he didn't have the control when he walked eight batters.

Seniors Ed Throop and Stanley Sorrels led the Dogs at the plate. They both hit safely two times out of three at bats. Throop and Sorrels also added key defensive plays.

The Bulldogs threatened in the first, but an unusual play halted the threat. Les Schatzley was on first when Jerry Ogles got what supposedly looked like a hit, but the ball hit Schatzley as he was running for second. This made for the third out to put down a Sikeston rally.

The Mustangs came on hard in the second only to see their efforts put down as catcher Tommy Vines made a good defensive play to tag out a Mustang runner at the plate. The third inning was also disappointing for the Mustangs. Men were on second and third with two out and the third batter up for them. Miller pitched out of the inning forcing the batter to hit the ball to the third baseman.

The scoreless game was ended in the fourth as the Bulldogs put together two hits and error to score one run. Dave Dollar came in to score the first run as an error by the second baseman on a throw to second was capitalized upon.

The fifth inning was the big one for the Dogs as they came through to score four runs on two hits and four errors. Throop led the inning off with his second hit of day. Jerry Ogles came to bat with three men on and put the ball down the third base line. The third baseman bobbled the ball - one run scored, then he tried to throw out the runner - the ball soared over the first basemen's head for two more runs and left the batter on third base. Sorrels got a hit to bat in the last run for Sikeston and it was easy sailing behind the flawless pitching of Miller.

This evens the Sikeston record at 2-2 for the season as the Dogs lost 15-8 Thursday to Paducah, Ky. North Pemiscot suffered their first loss as their record stands at 5-1. Sikeston will be going against Charleston Monday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Bucks Pull Within One-Game of Knicks

Listen, the New York Knicks are setting off Lew Alcindor.

Tick ... tick ... Boom!

Alcindor, charged up after two losses to New York, scored 33 points and collected a club record 31 rebounds to lead Milwaukee to a pressure 101-96 victory in the National Basketball Association playoffs Friday night.

It was a must win for the young Bucks against the Knicks, who now hold a 2-1 lead in their best-of-7 Eastern Division finals with game No. 4 coming up in Milwaukee Sunday.

In the night's other NBA playoff game, the Los Angeles Lakers moved within one game of sweeping the Western Division finals with a 115-114 overtime triumph over the Atlanta Hawks.

The New York Nets tripped Kentucky 122-118 in overtime, Denver beat Washington 139-111 and Los Angeles turned back Dallas 115-108 in opening round games of the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The Bucks erased an early Knicks advantage and sprinted to a 29-16 first quarter lead at Milwaukee.

New York repeatedly narrowed the gap, but could never come closer than seven points. Bob Dandridge helped keep the pressure on the Knicks with 22 points.

Wilt Chamberlain, a notoriously poor shooter, sank two in a row with 17 seconds left to give the Lakers a 3-0 edge going to Sunday's game at Los Angeles. Atlanta's Butch Beard hit two free throws to tie the score at 105 after regulation time.

Chamberlain, who made nine of 16 from the free throw line, finished with 18 points and 35 rebounds. The Lakers lost Jerry West and Dick Garrett on personal fouls in the fourth quarter. West finished with 35 points while Lou Hudson and Beard each hit 22 for the Hawks.

Lavern Tart triggered the Nets' victory over the Colonels with 16 points as New York grabbed a 1-0 lead in their best-of-7 ABA Eastern Division semifinals.

The game was tied at 109 at addition to his point production, the end of regulation as Raymond "intimidated" Dallas' Kentucky's Earl Carrier sank shooters with blocked shots, two free throws with four seconds left. Kentucky came to the game's high man with 33.

within two points, 120-118 in the overtime period, but Tart nailed it down for the Nets with two free throws at the 35-second mark.

Denver had to come from behind in its Western Division semifinal contest with Washington.

Rick Barry's early sharpshooting built big leads for the Caps throughout much of the first half. But Larry Jones and Ben Warley finally paced the Rockets to a 87-66 halftime lead with key, three-point buckets.

After an even third period, Jones, who scored 33, and rookie superstar Spencer Haywood, with 32, poured it on to fuel the Rockets to a runaway fourth stanza.

Los Angeles sprung to an early lead and held it all the way in grabbing the Western Division opener from Dallas.

Bob Warren set the pace for the Stars, with 21 points, followed by Craig Raymond and George Stone with 18 apiece. In addition to his point production, the end of regulation as Raymond "intimidated" Dallas' Kentucky's Earl Carrier sank shooters with blocked shots, two free throws with four seconds left. Kentucky came to the game's high man with 33.

Farm Management News

By RICHARD F. MCINTOSH
Extension Area Farm Management Agent

BENTON — Soybean planting time is just around the corner. Each year there are several soybean producers who spend considerable time during the winter months planning their weed control program and then discard their plans just before planting because of spur of the moment decisions. These spur of the moment decisions can be costly.

Deciding at the last minute not to use a herbicide because it doesn't "look like" it will rain within the next ten days may cause you to have a severe weed problem, if it does rain. This is particularly true on those fields heavily infested with weeds and/or those fields which can be cultivated soon after a rain.

Before making this spur of the moment decision, ask yourself two questions. (1) How much money will you save (in herbicide cost), if you "guess right?" (2) Then ask yourself how much money will you lose (in yield reduction because of weed competition), if you guess wrong.

Many soybean producers' weed control program plans include more than one herbicide because they don't have the same weed problems on all fields. However, if past history is any indication, when it is time to plant some producers will forget their plans and use the same herbicide on all their fields because it is easier. They don't have to recalibrate sprayers and etc. Using the wrong herbicide for a particular weed problem is actually a worse mistake in some cases than not using any herbicide at all.

Spur of the moment decisions in regard to tillage operations will also adversely affect weed control in your soybean fields.

Your soybean stand and the performance of herbicides you use are highly correlated to seedbed preparation.

It is next to impossible to get good weed control particularly with same herbicides, if they were applied on a "rough and cloddy" seedbed.

Don't work soybean fields that are too wet and don't plant soybeans too early just because you are caught up. If working a field that is too wet is the only thing you can find to do, "don't work-go fishing instead." Working a field that is too wet increases soil compaction, damages the soil structure and the clods caused by working a field while it is too wet also makes cultivation more difficult. Many potentially serious early season weed problems can be eliminated by one or two trips over the field with cultivation equipment if a good seedbed was prepared.

Effective early season cultivation is next to impossible to achieve in cloddy fields.

Soybean producers who develop their weed control plans early in the year and then follow their plans, normally have more success than those who constantly make spur of the moment decisions.

lower than the estimated world price. ## 1,412 Wheat Farms Signed For Program

NEW MADRID — Signup for New Madrid County wheat and feed grain farmers ended March 20. Preliminary figures show 934 feed grain and 1,412 wheat farms in the county are enrolled in the 1970 feed grain program, Bernard Recker, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee reports.

Nationwide, 837,366 farms were enrolled in the wheat program and 1,432,211 farms were enrolled in the feed grain program at the close of the initial signup deadline, March 20. Signup was extended through March 27 in Oklahoma and through April 3 in 11 other States.

Signed farms as of March 25 had 34,287,347 allotment acres in the wheat program (75 percent of the 45.4 million acre national allotment), Recker said. In 1969, 79.7 percent of the allotment was on signed farms at this point in the signup program. Intended diversion of wheat allotment acreage for payment increased by 733,026 acres during the week ending March 20. The total reached 3,527,567 acres. This compares with 4,316,411 acres of signed diversion in the 1969 signup a year earlier, Recker said.

In the feed grain program, 1970 farm signup as of March 20 trailed the 1969 program by 7 percent, the Chairman said. Total agreed diversion of feed grain cropland was 34,048,703 acres, an increase of 5.7 million acres during the week. The total is about 9 percent behind a year earlier when signed diversion soared to an all time record of 41.3 million acres by the close of the national enrollment period.

Of the 34 million acres of intended diversion for 1970, 18,719,663 acres represent voluntary added diversion for payment and 15,324,040 acres represent qualifying minimum diversion without payment.

The total feed grain base of 78,210,760 acres on signed farms in this report is made up of 10,016,957 acres of barley, 50,887,278 acres of corn, and 17,306,515 acres of sorghum base. Last year, at the comparable time in the 1969 signup, there was 55,096,408 acres of corn; 18,164,737 acres of sorghum; and 10,817,066 acres of barley base represented on signed farms.

1,857 Farms Signed for Crop Program

NEW MADRID — The official signup period for participation in the 1970 cotton program ended March 20 with a preliminary report of 1,857 farms signed up in New Madrid county Bernard Recker, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, reports. These farms represent 90,801 acres signed up for the program.

As of the final signup date, 462,104 farms are enrolled nationwide with 15,369,438 acres in cotton allotments, or 93 per cent of the total 1970 national allotment of 17 million acres. The number of enrolled farms in the 1970 program compares to 465,647 farms at the close of signup in 1969. Acreage allotments on farms enrolled for the 1970 program compared to 14,380,843 acres, or 88.7 per cent of the 1969 national allotment total at the end of the signup last year.

The 1970 cotton program is designed to provide adequate supplies of quality upland cotton, to maintain farm income, and to keep U.S. cotton competitive with other fibers and the foreign cotton, Recker said.

As in previous years, the 1970 program continues price-support loans at a level lower than the estimated world price. Also continued, is the "one price" cotton provision making it possible for U.S. Cotton to move in either domestic or export channels without a payment of the handler, user or exporter. This arrangement is aimed at pricing cotton competitively and thereby maintaining larger markets at home and abroad for U.S. cotton, the chairman said.

Brisk Demand For Soybeans

BENTON — American soybean producers are selling record quantities of soybeans both at home and abroad this year. According to Shirley McArthur, chairman of the Scott County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

It is estimated that soybean utilization will increase from 945 million bushels used in 1969 to 1,136 million bushels for this year. This increase in market demand for soybeans represents the production from about 7 million acres.

In view of the excess production capacity we have in this country, this growth in soybean demand is welcome news to soybean producers and taxpayers.

During the period 1966 through 1968, soybean supplies tended to increase as a result of increased competition for lower-priced imports of fish meal, sunflower oil, and other competitive protein substitutes. However, in recent months demands for soybeans has increased substantially as a result of more competitive pricing, a drop-off in supplies of other high-protein materials, and continued growth in world demand for protein feeds.

As a result of the increased demand at higher prices, soybean producers who placed their crop under loan last fall have been redeeming them prior to the loan maturity date and moving them into the open market, the chairman pointed out.

In past years, with less favorable markets, farmers have tended to leave their soybeans under loan until the loan maturity date. Reversal of this trend will result in a substantial saving to the government and therefore to taxpayers.

"Increased exports have been, and will continue to be, the key to large growth markets for soybeans," Mr. McArthur pointed out.

"Soybeans supply more than four pounds of meal for each pound of oil, while most other vegetable oil products supply about a pound of oil for each pound of meal. The demand for meal is increasing faster than the demand for oil, and this in turn creates a demand for soybeans both in the U.S. and abroad," he explained.

With soybeans priced more competitively with other higher protein products, overall market demand has increased faster than processing facilities could profitably be developed.

However, with a somewhat improved operating margin, more crushing plants are being built or planned. This will increase the demand for farmers' beans and eventually provide a greater volume of soybean oil and meal at more competitive prices.

Recent action which resulted in a 50 per cent reduction in the soybean levy into Japan, and continued efforts by USDA to discourage an import tax on soybean oil and meal moving into the European economic community has helped exports.

This action, combined with a continued desire to upgrade their diets, by consumers, will assist in developing a market for additional supplies of soybeans.

In anticipation of this improved market demand, soybean growers have reported intentions to plant over 43 million acres in 1970, an increase of almost 1 million acres above 1969.

"This increase should boost bean growers' incomes around $100 million next year," the chairman estimated.

One naval battle of the American Revolution was fought on dry land. In 1775, the first year of the Revolution, some Maine farmers, armed with nothing but pitchforks and rocks, captured the British gunboat "Margaretta" after it had stranded at low tide.

State Capitol Dirt to Be Used In Planting Washington Tree

COLUMBIA — A pound of soil from the state capitol grounds in Jefferson City will be used in planting a tree at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C.

The tree planting will be part of ground breaking ceremonies Monday, April 20, for an $8,000,000 expansion of the 4-H Center, according to Frank Graham, director of Extension youth programs at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

All 50 states are sending soil for the "national tree," Graham said.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and J. C. Penney, honorary co-chairmen of National 4-H Advisory Council, will join 4-H club members at the ceremonies, which will be part of National 4-H Conference April 19-24.

The Missouri soil was dug from the capitol lawn by representatives of the Missouri State 4-H Council and the Missouri 4-H Foundation.

Miss Noel Herndon, 3720 North Ten Mile Drive, Jefferson City, and Allen Garner, Columbia, represented the 4-H members on the Council. The Foundation representatives were James C. Kirkpatrick, Jefferson City, secretary of state and chairman of the Foundation; Homer Young, Kansas City, chairman of the Foundation's National 4-H Center Development Committee; and Graham, who is Foundation secretary.

The Council and the Foundation are making plans to raise money to support the 4-H Center expansion program.

Missouri delegates to the National 4-H Conference will witness the ground breaking and tree planting.

They are: Miss Judy Hawker, Newton; Miss Terry Ann Thiesfeld, Rock Port; Steve Ferguson, Route 2, Independence; and Warren Taylor, New Bloomfield.

Several educational programs, in addition to the National 4-H Conference, are held at the National 4-H Center each year.

For several years, Missouri has led all other states in sending delegates to the 4-H Citizenship Short Courses, held each week during the summer, Graham said. Last year, 398 Missouri 4-H club members attended.

A bus load of adult 4-H leaders has been attending 4-H Leaders Forums each spring at the center.

During the expansion, the Center will increase dormitory space to 800 beds. A multi-purpose auditorium and cafeteria will also be added.

Republicans Take Kick at Revenue Agency Bomb Incident

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — House Republicans took a kick Thursday at the Department of Revenue — state government's current underdog.

The minority party of the Missouri House called for an immediate investigation of the state's financial condition with the Department of Revenue the "No. 1 priority."

In a policy committee statement, the Republicans called immediate correction of "chaotic and inefficient conditions" accusing the department of failing to "collect all monies due it." A task force headed by Rep. Joseph H. Frappier, R-Florissant, and Rep. Donald Gann, R-Ozark, has been assigned to study the department.

The second task force will study fiscal affairs of the state. Rep. Robert A. Pierce, R-Cape Girardeau, and Rep. Joseph W. Hill, R-Kansas City, will head that group.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' message to the special session Wednesday called for civil service job control over the Public Service Commission and Division of Liquor Control. He said extending the merit system to the Department of Revenue would cost the state about 18 per cent more in higher salaries and called for a study first.

The Republicans now plan to look into the situation themselves.

A DIG-IN was held on the state capitol grounds in Jefferson City by members of the State 4-H Council and the Missouri 4-H Foundation. They got a pound of soil to be used in planting a national tree at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. Fifty states are sending soil for the tree which will be planted by Mrs. Richard M. Nixon. From left are Homer Young, Kansas City, chairman of the Foundation's National 4-H Center Development Committee; Frank Graham, Columbia, Foundation secretary; Miss Noel Herndon, Jefferson City; Allen Garner, Columbia; and James C. ## Device Disarmed In 10th K.C. Bomb Incident

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bomb made of four sticks of dynamite and a timing device was disarmed by police early today after it was found on the rear steps of a church at the Country Club Plaza.

It was the 10th bomb incident in the Kansas City area in eight days, besides two at nearby Lawrence, Kan. Joseph "Mike" Donahue, private detective hired Thursday by the Plaza Association, said he found the bomb at the Seventh Church of Christ Scientist at 11:30 p. m. while checking parking lots.

At 11:50 police discovered the bomb was set to explode at midnight. Residents were cleared from two apartment buildings near the church.

When the bomb failed to explode, Frank Lee, an agent for the Alcohol, Tax and Firearms division of Internal Revenue Service, volunteered to disarm it. Lee carried the device into the street and snipped the wires at 12:20 a. m.

The bomb was taken to a police laboratory for study. Two FBI technicians from Washington joined the Kansas City Metro squad in probing the rash of bombings.

Metro agents went to Lawrence Thursday to see if there was any apparent connections between the incidents. A bomb started a fire that destroyed a Lawrence furniture store Wednesday night, thrown through a window of a. On April 9 a pipe bomb was savings association office in

Bill Crawford Named For Outstanding Editorial Cartoons

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — (NEA) — Bill Crawford, whose editorial cartoons appear regularly in THE STANDARD was voted the National Headliners' Award for "consistently outstanding editorial cartoons."

Crawford is chief editorial cartoonist for Newspaper Enterprise Association, New York and Cleveland, and his award-winning cartoons appear in hundreds of newspapers across the country.

The cartoonist was named along with persons in other categories of the newspaper business for outstanding work during 1969 in the 36th Annual Headliners Awards competition. Membership in the exclusive Headliners Club is limited to those who have won the handsome Headliner silver medallion, and the men who serve as consultants and judges in the selection of each year's winners.

Long recognized as one of the top practitioners of his art, Crawford adds his newest prize to many others, notably four awards as "Best Editorial Cartoonist" by the prestigious National Cartoonists Society, of which he is a past president.

Crawford's work has been reprinted often in such publications as Time, Newsweek, Life, Esquire, Fortune and others. He also has illustrated many books.

Crawford blends a unique art style with word economy in his captions. With NEA since 1962, he served the 20 years previous with The Newark News. Crawford creates six cartoons a week for NEA client newspapers, does a great deal of portrait and creative sculpture, is a champion field archer, a chess player, musician, lecturer and family man.

He started drawing as a youngster in Hammond, Ind., and won a high school cartoon contest in Cleveland that led to the art editorship of the Ohio State University humor magazine. After he received his degree in fine arts from OSU he took postgraduate work in Paris and North Africa.

Crawford draws his cartoons in his Manhattan office and at his home studio which occupies the whole top floor of his home on a bluff overlooking the ocean at Atlantic Highlands, N.J. He travels a good deal to broaden his per-

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

MODEST AND LOW-PRICED This three bedroom, one-story dwelling is estimated to cost under $19,000 to build in the high-priced New York City suburban area. There's a one car garage which can be expanded to two, large closets, an optional fireplace in the living room, and two terraces one in the rear, separated from the dining area by sliding glass doors, the other in the front, alongside the main entrance.

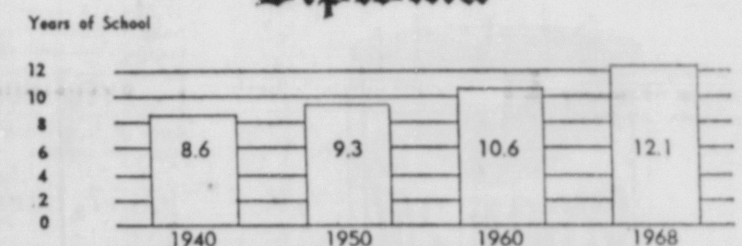

Inside, a central foyer separates the living-dining area from the bedroom wing. The kitchen has a counter top range, dishwasher, garbage disposal, and a spacious corner for informal dining. Off the kitchen is the laundry room, which also serves as a service entrance. There are bathrooms both in the master bedroom and in the bedroom hall.

The cottage-like exterior is of wood shakes, accented by vertical siding. Plan HA636P, with 1,185 square feet of living space, was designed by architect Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 Street, Jamaica, N.Y.

Full page illustrations show children from ages 3 to 14 busy making things or playing games using seeds and flowers, gourds and pumpkins. There are 34 ideas in this 5 x 8 package with its bright yellow cover, soft canary yellow pages. Some of them are intended for winter, others are to be carried out in spring, summer or autumn as the various materials used come into season in the garden. Children, of course, find the booklet interesting. Parents and grandparents, please note! But teachers and leaders of such youth groups as Cub Scouts, Brownies, Bluebirds and Junior Gardeners also will find the booklet a source of inspiration. Available from the National Garden Bureau, 1458 Chapin, Birmingham, Mich. 48008, each copy costs $1.25, postpaid.

KERSHNER-ROWE COMMENTARY

Howard Kershner
Edward Rowe

Why Are We A Deficit Nation?

Why are the United States and the United Kingdom deficit nations? They are not always exporting enough even to pay for their imports. Why does this condition exist? Because government has indulged in too much spending and labor unions have demanded pay scales which make it impossible for our exporting companies to compete with foreign manufactured goods.

The government and the labor unions have combined to price our goods out of the market. Neither Britain nor the United States can compete with goods offered in the world markets from Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Japan. The British and we ourselves, continue to sell in these markets but not enough to pay for our imports. Recently England announced a favorable balance of trade for the first quarter of this year, but the situation is still marginal and could be reversed any time.

Why are Germany, Switzerland and Italy surplus nations? Partly because their governments are less extravagant, but mainly because their labor union leadership realizes that if they wish to hold their foreign markets they must keep the prices low enough to compete. Union leadership in these three surplus countries has not forced wages beyond the point that enables their employers to sell enough goods in the foreign markets to pay for all the Germans, the Italians and the Swiss are importing.

Any nation willing to pay the price of remaining competitive can be a surplus nation.

2-Card Of Thanks

In memory of my husband Marion Darter who passed away ten years ago the 17th of April 1960. Some may think the grief is past but not for me. My companion meant so much to me I try not to be grieved but Lord you understand. Marion loved Thelma and I. He was a devoted husband a kind father, and we loved him, and will see him again someday where the suffering will be joy and tears will be smiles and the goodbyes will be good morning up there where no parting comes no more. Sadly missed by his wife Lucille and daughter Thelma.

Looking Back

Seniors Guests of Juniors in Home

50 Years Ago
April 18, 1920
The junior class of the local high school entertained the senior class with the annual junior-senior reception at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Tanner on Gladys street last Thursday evening. It was truly one of the best entertainments ever given the senior class of their lower classmen.

Through the combined efforts of the National and Missouri Tuberculosis Association and the local Parent Teachers' Association, the Sikeston elementary school is conducting a health crusade that is producing highly gratifying results. The chores, as printed on blanks for each child is as follows: 1. I washed my hands before each meal today. 2. I washed not only my face but my ears and neck and I cleaned my fingernails today. 3. I kept fingers, pencils and everything likely to be unclean or injurious out of my mouth and nose today. 4. I brushed my teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal today. 5. I took 10 or more slow, deep breaths of fresh air today. I was careful to protect others if I spit, coughed or sneezed. 6. I played outdoors with windows open more than 30 minutes today. 7. I was in bed 10 hours or more last night and kept my windows open. 8. I drank four glasses of water, including a drink before each meal and drank no tea, coffee, nor other injurious drinks today. 9. I tried to eat only wholesome food and eat slowly. I went to the toilet at my regular time. 10. I tried hard today to sit up and stand up straight; to keep neat, cheerful and kind-minded and to be helpful to others. 11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that are checked. The results will appear in the next several editions.

Sikeston high and grade school representatives in the annual Scott County spelling match held last Saturday at the Benton High School building won the second and third places. Ruth Felker and Evelyn Hartzel were able to spell up to third place. Betty Gordon was second in the grade contest. Eileen Smith of Chaffee won first place in the high school group and Clea Kirby of Benton, second. Lela LeGrand of Benton Parochial School won the grade division.

Friends and neighbors of W.H. Widdows gathered at the homestead near Miner Switch Sunday and assisted in celebrating the 76th birthday of Mr. Widdows. Mrs. P.E. ## If You Were the Judge Sitter Must Be Warned About Child

By Jack Strauss, L.L.B.
When Mr. AND Mrs. Smith went out for an evening of enjoyment, they left their trouble behind. Namely, their 4-year-old son Dennis. A notorious terror, he waited for the roar of his parents' automobile to fade away and then, with the reckless abandon of a high-stepping quarterback, he threw a flying block at his startled teenaged baby sitter. Regaining consciousness in the hospital, the baby sitter sued both Dennis and his parents for her injuries. "The Smiths didn't give me an even chance," the baby sitter complained in court. "Had they forewarned me that I was sitting for a holy terror, I would have at least been on my guard." "She should have been on her guard anyhow," was the parents' defense. "Children are unpredictable. Besides," they added, "since Dennis is only 4, he's not responsible for his acts and neither are we. The case should be dismissed."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the Smiths responsible for the battered baby sitter's injuries. This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that parents are guilty of negligence if they know their children tend toward violence and fail to warn a baby sitter of that fact. (Based upon a 1953 Calif. District Court of Appeals Decision).

Jack Waller Joins Malden Airport Board

MALDEN — Jack Waller, president of the Malden State Bank, was appointed to the Airport Board Monday night by Mayor Sparrel Davis. Mr. Waller's appointment was to fill the vacancy created several months ago by the resignation of James Newberry.

Other members of the Airport Board are Bob Green, chairman, P. D. Watson, John Howell, Harold Pinkley and Evan Burge.

Alfus Watson, administration of the Local Housing Authority, appeared before the Council with a proposal that they petition for another 100 low-rent housing units. The Council took the matter under advisement.

The dog problem again was discussed. The chief of police was authorized to employ another man on a temporary basis to assist the humane officer. The Council warned the

AMONG THOSE attending a peace officers meeting were, from left, Jess Tartar of the conservation department in Cape Girardeau; Fred Glover, juvenile office of Scott- Mississippi counties; Bennie Rapert of Charleston, highway patrol; Police Chief Arthur Bruce, George Phipps of the public service commission, in Caruthersville; Sgt. Dan Harmon of the Cape Girardeau police and president of Southeast Missouri Peace Officers; Baldwin Young of Cape Girardeau state liquor control department; Sheriff Ivan McLain of Cape Girardeau county; Bill Jarnagin of Chaffee, forestry special agent; Walter Kinder, Cape Girardeau police chief; Bill Lewis, Scott county judge; Jack Williams, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Cape Girardeau; Jack Stewart, Scott county deputy sheriff; Bob Berdine, Cape Girardeau county juvenile officer, and Gerald Inman, Scott county deputy sheriff.

Farm Bureau Queen To Be Picked April 25

BENTON — Plans were initiated at a Scott County Farm Bureau meeting for the annual insurance party and queen contest scheduled April 25 at the American Legion Building. The contest is open to single girls between 16 and 20. Their father or brother must be engaged in farming. The winner will represent Scott county at the annual Farm Bureau convention in Jefferson City in November. Eligible queen contestants should contact the Scott county Bureau office on or before Wednesday.

It was the consensus of those present that one of the major problems of both rural and urban citizens is that of disposing of dead animals. This includes not only cattle, hogs, and horses but also pets such as dogs and cats.

There is concern about the pollution of streams and creeks when dead animals are dragged or dumped into the water. Some are left along the highways and city streets to decompose and contaminate the air. There is no disposal plant readily accessible to the farmers of this area.

Bell City News

BELL CITY — The Bell City high school band is giving its annual Spring Concert, April 17 at 8 P.M. in the high school gymnasium. The concert will feature light and serious music from the romantic through the modern periods. Terry Goodson is the instructor and invites the public admission is free.

Mrs. Pat Niemczyk and three children arrived here recently to make their home, while the family's father is on a tour of duty in Okinawa with the United States service. Mrs. Niemczyk is the former Miss Virginia Abner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Abner and is living on the Garner property.

Post-Deadline Discovery Shatters Taxpayer's Smugness

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Dean E. Allen filled out his federal income tax return two weeks ago and put it in his pocket that same day for mailing. The unhurried taxpayer wore a smug expression all day Wednesday as he watched friends rushing around to mail their returns before the midnight deadline.

Thursday, Allen was not smiling. After handing over his suit coat at the cleaners, Allen was visibly shaken when the dry cleaning clerk pulled Allen's unfiled tax return from the pocket.

The Prayer from The Upper Room

This is eternal life, that they know thee the only God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent. (John 17:3, RSV)

PRAYER: Our gracious Lord, Thou art life, the truth, the way. Grant that in Thee we may live, through Thee we may witness, and in Thy strength we may walk in Thy way. Amen.

Copper Wire Fades Away

KENNETT — Officials at Pemiscot- Dunklin Electric Co-op are in the dark lately concerning the continuing disappearance of valuable copper wire from poles in various parts of the PDEC's distribution system.

David Wilkerson, co-op manager, reported in his column in the latest issue of PDEC News that the co-op office would appreciate receiving reports from members who might observe anyone except co-op personnel taking down such wire.

Wilkerson reported the theft has continued for some time, and in some cases wires carrying electricity at the time have been cut and removed, causing interruptions of service. On top of this, Wilkerson said there was another serious result from the theft of live wires hanging from a pole, creating a dangerous safety hazard.

He was ordered to pay the cost of replacing a light pole which his car struck at 9 p.m. Thursday at 2020 Scott St.

Howell told police a westbound car on Scott Street crowded his car into the curb causing him to strike the pole.

Gideon to Vote on School Levy

GIDEON — There will be a school election on Tuesday in the Gideon high school gymnasium building. The polls will be open at 8:00 a.m. and remain open until 7:00 p.m.

The board of education delayed the school levy election in order to see if the state income and corporate tax revision measure would be approved. Since the measure failed statewide the board is submitting a total school levy of $3.51 to operate the schools for the 1970-71 school year.

This is the minimum which is needed in order to maintain the present program for another year. The 21c increase asked would produce approximately $10,000 and by voting the $3.51 would qualify the district to obtain the second level state money in the amount of approximately $9,600.00. This second level money is allowed because of the State Foundation program formula which encourages districts to keep up local effort.

First presidential review of military forces from his residence at the White House was held by President Thomas Jefferson. On July 4, 1801, he reviewed the Marines who were led by the Marine band.

Normal Weather Obituaries Welfare Bill Faces Bootheel Outlook Tough Senate Fight

By Leonard F. Hand
Farm Meteorologist
PORTAGEVILLE — Near normal temperature averages and rain totals are expected for the Missouri Bootheel over the 30-day period ending in Mid-May. This is a shift in trends more favorable for successful completion of the numerous agricultural operations that crowd into the farmer's schedule at this critical time of year.

There is no assurance that we won't encounter short periods of cool weather, however this pattern in the past has brought 5 day mean soil temperatures into the upper 60 degree range by Mid-May. In 1953 we did encounter a cool period that dropped soil temperature to 56 degrees on May 14, and held readings below the 68 degree level from the 13th to the 15th.

An interesting study conducted of the University of Missouri college of agriculture yielded the following general guidelines for matching soil temperatures to the five day temperature outlook:

1. If the soil temperature "yesterday afternoon" was observed to be below 68 degrees, and the five day outlook is for near or below normal temperatures, it is highly likely that there will be more than 6 unfavorable days for cotton emergence in the ten day period following the date of issuance of the outlook.

2. If the soil temperature was observed to be 68 degrees or more "yesterday," and the five day outlook is for near or above normal temperatures, probably there will be enough favorable days for cotton germination in the ten day period following the date of issuance of the outlook.

3. If the soil temperature was less than 68 degrees "yesterday," and the five day outlook is calling for temperatures to be more than two degrees above normal, there is a fairly good chance for acceptable germination (and emergence).

4. If soil temperature was above 68 degrees yesterday afternoon, but the five day outlook is for temperatures to average more than two degrees below normal, the odds are not favorable for acceptable germination (and emergence).

Releases from the Weather Bureau Office for Agriculture, Portageville will be made available to radio stations through the ESSA Weather Wire emphasizing the trend in soil temperatures and five day outlooks during the pre-plant period.

We normally pass the 50 per cent probability for light killing frost by mid-April in the northern most part of the Bootheel. Again, it would be well to watch the five day trends for any abnormal situation developing, although probabilities drop to one in ten by mid-April in the southern sections and by the end of the month in the northern boundaries of the region.

Dry weather after substantial rains at the beginning of the month gave most soils two weeks of drying before showers reached the Bootheel on the 17th. Progress of field work will depend largely upon the distribution of rains that are expected to come mostly in showers and thundershowers. Fast records indicate that rain in some amount may be measured on 10 to 12 days during this period of the season. At the same time, evapotranspiration increases to nearly equal the normal rainfall where water is readily available. Evaporation losses will be lower on dryer soils with little vegetative cover, and more water will be removed from land planted in wheat and forage or pasture.

The alfalfa weevil usually causes some concern during this period and farmers should be alert to any need for applying insecticides. In general, temperatures above 60 degrees and at least 8 hours of rain-free weather are recommended check with your University of Missouri Extension Office if in doubt about need for controls.

The five-day outlook should be of some help in determining any need to alter spray schedules on strawberries and peach trees. Distribution of showers and subsequent return to good drying conditions will be a factor in providing optimum conditions favorable for disease organisms.

Normal rainfall for the Bootheel as a whole from Mid-April through Mid-May is 4.38 inches. Normals for individual cities are: Dexter 4.47 inches, Morehouse 4.35 inches, Poplar Bluff 4.66 inches, Caruthersville 4.13 inches, Doniphan 4.75 inches, Parma 4.39 inches and Sikeston 4.42 inches.

Short term averages for other cities: Cape Girardeau 4.60 inches, Bernie 4.26 inches, Charleston 4.61 inches, Deering 4.17 inches, Malden 3.99 inches, Fuxico 4.59 inches, Wappapello Dam 4.37, Advance 4.35 inches, Bloomfield 4.65 inches, Clearwater Dam 4.75 inches, Kennett 4.75 inches, Portageville 4.23 inches and Quin 4.20 inches.

5. If soil temperature was above 68 degrees yesterday afternoon, but the five day outlook is for temperatures to average more than two degrees below normal, the odds are not favorable for acceptable germination (and emergence).

Viet Survivors

Describe Killings

By Cambodians

TAKEO, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian soldiers fired repeatedly into huddled masses of Vietnamese concentration camp inmates and left more than 100 dead, survivors reported today.

Blood-spattered and wounded survivors said Cambodian troops came in four times between 8 p.m. Thursday and 5 a.m. today.

"They shot and shot and shot," said one boy, about 15, who was weeping.

Last week at least 73 were slain under similar circumstances in Prasaut.

The Takeo Vietnamese concentration camp, as the soldiers themselves call it, is one of dozens around Cambodia that contain thousands of Vietnamese residents rounded up as part of security measures in face of mounting attacks by Communist-led forces.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has handed President Nixon a major victory by passing his far-reaching welfare reform package, but the administration faces a strong effort in the Senate to raise the assured family income over $1,600.

Several senators already have served notice they will try to hike the benefits despite the cost. The final floor showdown may come in June.

By a 249-155 vote that crisscrossed party lines, the House Thursday sent the measure to the Senate. Both Republican and Democratic leaders supported it, but conservatives in both parties—and a few liberals who wanted more generous provisions—were lined up in opposition.

The measure provides a $1,600 federally assured income for a family of four and increases the roll of eligible persons by an estimated 13 million, mostly the working poor and their families. It requires adult beneficiaries to register for job training and assignment. The federal government would assume a greater share of the cost and administration.

The aged, blind and disabled would be assured $110 a month. By official estimates, the bill would cost $4.4 billion—but opponents said the cost will turn out as much as three times that figure.

In the Senate, several members have tipped their hand on proposed amendments changing the benefits.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okl., has proposed an initial family floor of $2,520, rising by stages to $3,600.

Sen. Charles L. Goodell, R-N.Y., advocates a $3,800 floor. Others, however, may attempt to trim the bill. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., has termed the cost estimate hopelessly inadequate and said the work incentive provisions are no improvement over present law.

The Senate Finance Committee plans a preliminary briefing on the complicated measure next week, with hearings to follow, aimed at a Senate vote in June.
